ALEX, H. WASHBURN-Red River Flood

Red river, traditional enemy of man and beast in the Southwest, and noted as one of the most treacherous streams in the world, is on another rampage. It may not approach the record rise of 1938, but Saturday's advices from Fulton said it would go two to three feet above flood stage. . . . Which reminds us PEAK ON TUESDAY that in yesterday's edition The Star carried a picture of the pouring of first concrete on the new government dam at Denison, Texas. WASHINGTON -(P) - By a vote of But other treacherous rivers have dent Roosevelt announced a plan for training 50,000 pilots.

The bilt, which now goes to the senate, would suspend the army Air senate, would suspend the army Air Corps' legal maximum, of 6,000 planes until June 30, 1941. It would permit be army to train an average of 8,-500 pilots annually, as compared with 2,500 at present, and allow 6,000 Air Corps reserve officers to be on active duty simultaneously. It would permit the army to discharge 'fifth column" suspects among its civilian em-Moyes, regardless of civil service re-

The house adopted amendments which would for sid use of any of the ds to pay salaries of Communists. Mazis or Fascists and permit the presicent to curtail exports of any materials necessary to defense, such as scrap iron and steel.

The house rejected proposals to provide for a five-man bi-partisian authority "to expedite national defense" and to provide $50,000,000 additional for military training for CCC boys and other civilians on a volunteer basis.

Representative Marcantonio (A. L. N. Y.), who cast the only vote against the bill, said " I feel this is similar to the preparation of 1916, a step toward launching us into a war we should keep out of."

The senate naval committee imposed a top of 10,000 planes upon the navy's air strength, in recommending passage of a measure authorizing $2,-20000 for the naval air force and its fixed, it was saiw, so the navy would have to ask congress for approval when the time comes to exceed that number of fighting ships,

The bill authorizes the navy to inerease its roster of pilots to 16,000 Walsh told told reporters $1,200,000,000 would be needed to attain this twofold goal, which the navy hopes to reach in four years, Only 192 New Planes

In testifying before the committee, Rage Admiral John H. Towers, chief naval aeronautics, said the navy had 1,367 combat planes, of which 192 were less than a year old, with the others ranging in age up to seven

From these figures, Senator Byrd (fun., Va.) estimated the navy has only 500 planes which could meet modern European aircraft in equa combat, When Chairman Walsh (Dem. Mass) suggested the testimony be withheld from publication because it presented a bad picture, the committee lowers was insistent in his praise for the navy's air force and said that by comparison, Great Britain had only about 240 ship based aircraft when the war began,

She was given the stamp by her first husband, Arthur Hind, before his death. Mr. Hind bought the stamp for $37,000 when the fabulous Ferrari collection was auctioned off by the French government, the proceeds being credited against Germany's bill for reparations. Ferrari had willed his entire colection to Germany, but had, unfortunately for Germany, left it in France when he fled at the outbreak of the war.

Of course Mrs. Scala does take good care of her precious bit of paper, which she describes as "terribly homely." It is kept in a clear cellophane envelope, covered by a black cellophane envelope inside an aspestos box n a vault in her home.

But she has none of the reverance for the stamp that collectors fell for it. But she does respect the collector's ove for a rare object. So every stamp collector working at the Ambassador Hotel was invited to come to her suite o see it when she stopped there on her visit to New York City to leave the stamp with World's Fair authorities. He wasn't worried about rustlers stealing the calves. He had lied to Barnes about seeing the truck tracks. But he kept an eye on the herd.

Monnie had apparently forgotten their quarrel. Barnes gave him an easy job, wrangling horses, kept him close to the ranchhouse during the day, and Larry found opportunity to spend most of the afternoons with her, Bentley's visits became less frequent and Larry wondered if Monnie's interest in the rancher had lessened. Bentley wouldn't be dismissed easily, however, so Larry decided that probably Bentley was on one of his frequent hunting trips. He thought it all out as he sat on the hilltop one dark night. He was in love with Monnie-hopelessly and completely. He had a constant battle with himself to keep from telling her. There'd be time for that after he had settled this narcotics smuggling, discovered how Hugh was killed. Then, and only then, he told himself, would he let Monnie

If Knowing Horses Will Help, Julie Duncan Ought to Ride Right Through Her New Role, Serial Queen

NA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD - Not since the days to the roots of her blond hair whenthen Pearl White, Ruth Roland and ever she talks about herself. She is Helen Holmes were riding runaway box cars and being chained to the log in the sawmill has there been a western and serial queen. But Universal is taking steps to fill that need. They have signed Julie Duncan to co-star with Johnny Mack Brown in all westerns made this year and also to be the hero-ine in their serials.

About 30 girls were tested for the role of western queen, but Miss Duncan won out because of her; superior horsemanship and also her ability as an actress.
